Dog Bite Story

This story was sent in anonymously

I was just about finished getting ready to go play golf with my son when I heard a weird noise coming from my son's room. When I went in there I saw that he had thrown the rest of his lunch out in the garbage, and one of my dogs had happened to get into it. When I went to go pick up the rest of his burger, my dog had also gone for the rest of the burger. Next thing I knew I was bleeding and in pain. My dog had bitten my finger instead of the burger. I ended up having to go to the emergency room to get stitches on my finger. Thankfully, not too many! My dog isn't normally aggressive, and I don't think he meant to bite my finger, but it still happened and it was still scary. Everybody is okay, and nothing is happening to my dog. My son knows not to have food in his room or even to throw out food in his room. After seeing what happened, I don't think he's ever going to do it again. The moral of the story is just be safe when it comes to dogs and food, you never know.

🐾 Pet Corner! 🐾

This is Rachel Stolzenberg's doggie Dak! They live in Texas, so the rest of us get lots and lots of pictures and videos of how goofy, fun, and loving Dak is. He is a very handsome dog that is so incredibly loved by Rachel and others!

Simple and Delicious Dessert Kabob

Serving Size: 15 Kabobs

Total Time: 30 minutes to 1 hour

Ingredients:

Store-bought mini donuts, brownies, pound cake

Assortment of your favorite fruit (Used in the photo are strawberries, raspberries, and blackberries)

Marshmallows

Any colored candy melt drizzle pouch (Turquoise and Bright Pink were used in the photo)

Assorted Sprinkles

Tools:

Cake Pop sticks

Wax/Parchment Paper to lay kebobs on when decorating

Instructions:

1. Assemble the kebobs: Skewer the treats onto the stick, leaving 3 inches at the bottom to hold. Lay the kebobs on the parchment paper.

2. Melt the candy: Melt the colored candy drizzle according to the directions on the packet.

3. Decorate the kebob: Drizzle the melted candy on the kebobs, and immediately decorate with sprinkles. Then let the kebobs sit for approximately 10 minutes.

4. Enjoy!
